DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 3, 4, 13, 15, and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Applicant's Admitted Prior Art (AAPA) in view of USPN 5,635,671 to Freyman et al and in view of USPN 6,221,690 to Taniguchi et al. AAPA discloses the well known automolding and well known resist removal methods (Specification, pages 2-5, Background of the Invention). Freyman et al describe a well known automolding system and describe laser drilling. Taniguchi et al describe the well known ball grid array and describe removal of resist with lasers such as YAG or excimer lasers. Both Freyman et al and Taniguchi et al describe substrates being encapsulated using a mold. The use of a YAG or excimer laser for removing resist from a substrate in a work station comprising an automold would have been obvious at the time applicant's invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art because the combined laser and automold is known as disclosed by Freyman et al and because the modern YAG and excimer lasers are well known for resist removal and because the older cleaning methods such as plasma are well known as disclosed by AAPA.

Claims 5, 6, 17, and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Applicant's Admitted Prior Art (AAPA) in view of USPN 5,635,671 to

Art Unit: 1725

Freyman et al and in view of USPN 6,221,690 to Taniguchi et al as applied to claims 1 and 13 above, and further in view of USPN 5,364,493 to Hunter, Jr. et al. Hunter, Jr. et al disclose well known vision apparatus and software for assisting in the automation of a resist removal process. The use of vision system components for automating the resist removal methods described above would have been obvious at the time applicant's invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art because the automation speeds up production.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed December 22, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that there is no motivation or suggestion to modify any reference used in the rejection. This argument is not convincing. In response to applicant's argument that there is no suggestion to combine the references, the examiner recognizes that obviousness can only be established by combining or modifying the teachings of the prior art to produce the claimed invention where there is some teaching, suggestion, or motivation to do so found either in the references themselves or in the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Fine, 837 F.2d 1071, 5 USPQ2d 1596 (Fed. Cir. 1988) and In re Jones, 958 F.2d 347, 21 USPQ2d 1941 (Fed. Cir. 1992). In this case, all of the references are framed in the electronic package process field and pertain to production molding or encapsulation of packages.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
